FACTS & FANCIES Frank Fairborn, Jr.

WHAT WAS LOST

What did the steel and coal strikes in the United States mean, not in manpower unemployment hours particularly but in lost goods of which everyone is in need. American analysts have figured it all out.

Lost steel production from November, 1945, to the present was translated into lost products, and it was shown that all this was lost to the American public:

> 8,000,000 automobiles. 20,000,000 refrigerators 10,000,000 locomotives. 20,000,000 washing machines. 5,000,000 kitchen ranges.

Even that was far from the whole story. Because it would mean that the things for which all those products would be exchanged if things were normal, would not be produced, and the wages for producing them would be lost.

The paralyzing effects on commerce, reaching out into the big and small stores; transportation; restaurants, and all the other fields of business, needed no elaborating. It was all clear enough.

DO IT "THROUGH THE CHARTERED BANKS"

Announcing in Parliament that the Canadian copper-colored "nickels" are being withdrawn from circulation and expressing the belief that "the movement will be completed within the near future," the Finance Minister added that "the withdrawal was being carried out through the chartered banks."

We see so many statements of that kind -that this and that and the other thing is being done "through the chartered banks"that we pay little or no attention to them any

But we should stop and think about it.

There are those in this country, no large number, perhaps, who count that day lost that does not provide them with a chance to criticize "the banks." To hear that kind of talk, you would imagine that "the banks" do as they please with other people's money and their own . . . that they carry on without let or hindrance, making their own laws and regulations, and generally amassing fortunes for their executives and directors.

The fact is, of course, that banking in this Dominion is hedged about by the most rigid restrictions and controls-not in these times of "control" alone, but always, in season and out of season, in peace as in war. The banking laws of Canada are the most exacting of all laws governing Canadian business activities. All banking is done under the eye and supervision of government . . . And no banking system in the world is sounder from the public viewpoint.

The banks of Canada did an immense job in wartime and are doing an immense job in this "transition" period. The fact that the public hears little about it is an indication of how thoroughly it is being done, without grounds for serious complaint.

How much free or near-free service the chartered banks of Canada give governments and the public we do not know, but it must be very extensive, indeed. (Look at the line-ups at the bank wickets each week or month of people cashing government cheques. It is just one example of the service the banks are giving the public-without much "percentage" in it for the banks.)

This is not a "defence" of the banks or an "apologia" for them: it is merely an attempt to give to the banks of this country some small measure of the credit that is due

SURVEY AT HAMILTON

The Financial Post last week carried a full page survey of conditions in Hamilton, the work of two trained reporters sent in to secure facts. Two out of every 11 industrial workers in Hamilton are idle at the present time due to strikes and lay-offs for lack of materials. Out of a total of 57,000 normally employed by 390 firms, approximately 10,000 are unemployed. But the moral effect is even worse than the physical.

"Fear hangs like a miasma over thousands of homes," is the way one writer puts it. In the first days, the strikers were mad because so many men stayed in and kept at work. Now the men inside are mad at the strikers because they are forced to remain inside. What this means, when the individuals are once again turned loose on the community is anyone's guess. There is already a feeling of civil war within the big city; the brooding cloud of fear was at every home where the investigators called.

Out of several specific cases, here is a typical one. "There's an Italian family living within the shadow of Stelco. It was a happy family until four weeks ago. The father had worked at Stelco for 20 years. Two sons were going to McMaster.. A third was at high school. The father got the boys jobs in Stelco for the summer. They started late in June, and joined the union. Their father joined when organizing began in the plant three years before. The strike call came. The two boys walked out, their father stayed inside. Tearfully, the woman told us, the two older boys have said they don't care if they ever hear from their father again."

It would require the judgment of Solomon to diagnose and try to reconcile the conflicting points of view, which are to be found from across the street, over the backyard fence and in the hallways of homes themselves. One family may live upstairs where the breadwinner remains at work; one down below where the strike order is observed, and it is, perhaps, an understatement that Hamilton will be poisoned with fueds and bitterness for years to come.

The conclusion of the investigators of The Post is that the strike has backfired badly on union leadership and has not stopped production as hoped for. It is a war of attrition and only a question of time before a break of some kind occurs.

UP IT GOES

The cost of living in Canada has gone up a point and a half since June, five points in the last four months, and now represents an increase of 24.1 points since August, 1939.

At once the paternal government comes to the rescue of the civil servants and adds a round increase in expenditure of from $6,-000,000 to $7,000,000 to take care of salary bonuses. Government employes earning from $175 to $250 per month will receive a bonus, starting as of August 1, of $14,20 a month as compared to $6.51. Other classified groups receive similar pay boosts.

Official records show that the wage level of Canada has risen about 40 per cent. That means wage, not what is ordinarily regarded as salary level. Salaries have been frozen throughout the war. The white-collared worker in the middle-salaried bracket, say from $2,000 to $3,000 is today faced with an approximate 25 per cent, increase in living costs, while from the salary received the government extracts the maximum income tax. Twelve to fifteen dollars a week fairly hits the average forced contribution. And

The shorts are getting shorter. Pretty soon they will be nothing but a "G" string.

The home property of Mrs. H. H. Farrell has been greatly improved by trimming off the upper part of the fine front lawn hedge.

For years this columnist has called "Honey" Shelton's "Old Back Shop" the den of iniquity. A very fine Reverend gentleman,, who has become accustomed to visiting the "Old Back Shop" informs me that it is not a den of iniquity, but rather is a seat of learning.

worse news is yet to come. Donald Gordon says further increases are expected and will be inescapable in living costs.

No one regrets or cavils at the increase for the government worker which will enable him to buy two baskets of Grimsby peaches where he couldn't afford one before. There is a vast field of workers in Canada, however, who have long been forgotten in the budget picture but not forgotten at all as income tax payers. Mr. Ilsley said it would be unwise to give the people too much money to spend at this time. It would promote the inflation trend. He must have been referring to the various groups, mostly unionized and highly organized and articulate, which today enjoy a 40 per cent increase over the wage levels of 1939. He was not thinking in terms of welfare for the forgotten white-collar chap.

There is nothing seemingly can be done about it. It can only be discussed with futility. It is plain as day, however, that the incidence of personal and much other taxation in Canada is unfair and unjust. Inequity at any time is hard to digest; when it strikes hard at a man's take-home pay it is intoler-

Work supplies the daily food, but cheerfulness gives it relish.

Frank Fairborn, Jr.

From 1901 onward great crowds continued to attend Grimsby Park and listen to the varied programmes provided in the Temple. Sunday school and Fraternal picnics of large proportions continued to flock there every year, but about 1906 the park began to get into difficulties. Internal strife among the directorate and other things caused the park to go backward unil 1909 when financial troubles caused the mortgage holders to intervene with the result that in the winter of 1910 old Grimsby Park Co. passed into oblivion and the property was sold by the mortgage company. It was then that the versatile H. H. Wylie, a Cleveland newspaper and advertising man, appeared on the scene and took over the property and thus was born Grimsby Beach.

Wylie started a new regime at the Beach. He tore down the old wooden fences; did away with the ticket gates and admission price; built a moving picture theatre for the late A. W. Moore; built a Fig- General Trucking ure "8" the first one ever erected in Canada, it being built in the spring and the one at Toronto Exhibition being built that fall; a big carrousel and a merry-goround were installed, also a miniature railroad; numerous hot dog stands and soft drink booths sprang up and other amusement park features came into existence; but the one big feature that made the old time Methodist founders of the park turn over in their caskets was the erection and operation

At first Wylie and myself (for I was Wylie's Press Agent and General Fixer) were just a little bit leary as to the outcome of this public dancing institution and our fears were not without grounds or the first year the hall was a flop, but in 1911 it Jewellery Repairs was different. The younger generation of the old timers were living in a different sphere and dancing was one of their pet theories and the hall under the supervision of Percy Finkle and his good wife, became a sacred institution to the young people of the park and the district. It was a mighty change in this old park that took place. Might I say that it was a change from the sublime to the ridiculous.

Side show ballyhooers took the place of the pulpit pounder; hurdy-gurdy music took the place of the Temple choir; a large stage for theatrical productions was erected on the spot where stood the old pulpit platform and the Temple became a theatre with a permanent stock company holding the boards, and producing two performances a week. It was here that the Sarah Gibney Stock Co., one of the best ever seen in Canada, played for two seasons, and to this day Miss Gibney (Mrs. Walter Wilson) is remembered by a host of friends in this district. Miss Gibney, I believe, is living in Florida, or was until a few years ago. At that time she was producing amateur theatrical troupes throughout the Grapefruit Belt. Jack, was at that time attending University of Michigan, a big strapping boy of 24, and who I believe would make a name for himself in this world of strife.

The big Dane dog, of course, that chased Marthe over the ice, (made of canned food boxes and painted white), across the stage in the old Temple theatre, is in dog heaven. Dance music took the place of hymns and in general everything in and about the park took a complete turnover.

Imagine people bathing and boating on Sunday, nevertheless it was a fact. Moonlight excursions and whatnot came to the park. Wylie had parachute jumpers and barbecues, picnics and fandangles of every description. He laid out a baseball diamond and quarter-mile race track, and so to speak made the park absolutely what its founders never intended it to be and had fought against all their lives.

The banner years of the new Beach were 1910-11-12-13 and 14. In the latter years Canada Steamship Lines acquired the property and they ran it in a more or less lackadaisical manner until 1919, when another reformation started to take place, this time Business Directory for the better. On August 7th, 1914, a great block of 32 cottages in the centre of the park was consumed by flames and on Dominion Day morning, 1918, the old Lake View hotel, that stood where the present lawn Dr. D. R. Copeland, bowling greens are, went up in smoke. Other fires of more or less importance took place after that. As years rolled on the park became less and less a picnic and amusement resort and more a high class residential community. Thanks for this reformation and improvement can be given to the late John Pearson and his live wire colleagues who formed the directorate of the Grimsby Beach Cottagers' Associstion. Gradually all the old buildings disappeared until today they are all a memory and in their place are flower gardens and lawns, well cared for and enjoyed by all who pass that way.

George Fair, the present superintendent of the park was brought from the village of Arthur in the spring of 1910 by Wylle to take over his present position. He was a brother-in-law of Wylie's and did and has made a success of his undertaking.

During my short, young and hectic and sinful life I have enjoyed the pleasures of Grimsby Park or Beach under three different atmospheres. In memory I think I like the second and original Wylie regime the best. In activity and spirit of building and production I like the Wylie regime. In old age and retirement I believe I like the present beautiful and restful regime the best.

Grimsby Park, like man, has passed through the ages of life and I have passed through with it, for which I am thankful. What the next 20 years will bring forth in the history of this magnificen resort. I nor no one else can tell, but I expect to b here to chronicle the changing.

I thank you.

THE OLD HOUSE

Just a ramshackle house at the side of the road, Weather stained, shabby and gray, But a sturdy old rambler still clings to the porch And the hollyhocks blossom and sway, To a gay little breeze

That sifts through the trees, Where the robin's song trembles all day.

And sighs while the pale moon gleams.

Just a ramshackle house like a lonesome old crone, Living alone with her dreams, But the oak tree remembers the life that is gone, While a blue jay chuckles and screams, And a mourning dove grieves With his nest 'neath the eaves,

Just a ramshackle house, yet once it was home, Its old walls have echoed to play, Gay children have romped where tall weeds now

Here a woman's hand held sway. But those years have long flown, And the children have grown, And the old home is empty today. I cooke -- aldershot phone burlington 624

IT'S NOT THE HEAT. IT'S THE HUMIDITY. Things are start- ly starring Fred MacMurray with ing to hum at THE BOWLAWAY. Grimsby's piscatorial artist, LIT-TLE WHIZZER by name, is home from the bush country and is now busily engaged in getting the alleys in shape for opening day on Labor Day, except that going back to work-he just loves it-gave him couple of crinks in the back, but he will get over it. Anyhow the alleys will be sanded down, refiled, varnished and highly polished ready for CLAYT RAHN to start out once again on the hip-pocket championship trail. . . . The Moose project is expected to be carried out over a three to five year period. It will take the form of an expedition, consisting of ranger guides and wildlife specialists using cameras and making detailed notes. When compiled, the expedition's notes will form the basis for a Moose conservation program. The director of the project is Mr. R. L. Peterson, a specialist engaged by the Museum, whose findings will be supplemented by Miss Shirley Kennedy's studies of Moose history. Mr. Peterson has been actively engaged in the study of Moose in Algonquin Park since

Mr. G. S. Cameron, working in conjunction with Mr. Shelley Logier, is in charge of the Maskinonge project. This project is being undertaken to secure data which will be used in promoting the survival of one of Canada's most popular game fish.

Mr. R. Kennell, K.C., Prof. J. R. Dymond, Mr. E. C. Cross and Mr. J. Watt form the committee set up by the Museum to administer the research fund. The fund will consist initially of three annual cash grants, placed at the committee's disposal by The Carling Conservation Club. In order to derive maximum benefit from the fund, the committee plans a sustained program extending over a number of years. In addition to the two immediate projects, it anticipates studies along similar lines dealing with the habitat, food, enemies and habits of other forms of wildlife. Commissioner of Ontario's 17,000 Girl Guides, Mrs. Conant said she is impressed with the need for maintaining a sound policy and program for Guides.

"Fundamentally our foundation is as sound, perhaps sounder, than when it was laid in 1909," she said. "Our founder must have had vision, for there are always new ways in which it can be applied. During the war, for instance, Guides played an important part."

Mrs. Conant told of discovering that the first meal prepared in an outdoor street kitchen during London's blitz was served by Guides who demonstrated how 300 persons could be quickly served. Now she is looking forward to hearing of the experiences of Guides on the Continent who served in the underground during the occupation.

She constantly makes her notes in a black, leather-covered notebook. While in England she staying with Lady Baden Powell who invited her to Hampton Court during a tour of Ontario last June and July. Toronto People Honour Father Kohut

Although Very Rev. Father N. M. Kohut, O.S.B.M. has been parish priest of St. Mary's Church in Grimsby and Superior of the Basilian Fathers here for the past three years, his wide field of activities in Toronto and other Canadian cities has won him a great number of friends. Members of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Ukrainian Catholic Church, Bathurst St., Toronto, last Thursday night honoured Very Rev. N. N. Kohut who leaves shortly for Rome as General Consultor for the Order of St. Basil the Great.

Father Kohut is well known in many Toronto circles. At Thurslay's reception he was presented with a wallet containing $150.00 from his well wishing Toonto friends. Attending the reception were Rt. Rev. Monsingor P. Kamencky of Our Lady of Perpetual Help, Toronto; Father A. Roborecki, St. Josaphat's, Toronto; Father B. Dziurman, Holy Eucharist, Toronto, and many business and professional men. The dinner was served by the ladies of the church under the chairmanship of Mrs. May Slobodzian. Picture shows Father Kohut receiving a farewell handsake from Rt. Rev. Msgr. P. Kamenecky.

Charlie Jew, being the first Chinese citizen in Grimsby was subjected to much abuse from certain characters in the town, but after they had once or twice appeared before "Squire" Forbes and paid out plenty, the annoyance ceased.

Then along came Hong Lee a dapper little Chinaman. One of the first in Canada to cut his queue off. He was a right smart little fellow. Worked 28 hours a day, or whatever hours a Chinaman works and built up a tremendous business. Added the first heated ironing machine that was put to work in the district.

He eventually sold out and during the war years Chin Cleu purchased the business, and he brought with him a young brat of a Chinese kid, known as Chin Ham. Chin went to school in Grimsby to Mr. John H. Forman, and on more than one occasion Mr. Forman told The Independent that he was proud of the progress that Chin had made. He was also proud of the way that the other kids of his age had treated him. Chin Ham was a nephew of Chin Cleu and when "Old John" passed away to the eternal heavens of China, Chin Ham became the owner of the Hong Lee Laundry.

"They Eat Out Of Your Hand"

The spotted deer of Northern Ontario come stalking cautiously out of the vast forest which is their home, to stare with wondering brown eyes at the road man has cut through the wilderness. They rub velvety horns against signposts that read "The King's Highway", and they are not afraid, for they have never even heard the crack of a rifle. If you offer them food they will take it, timidly, right out of your hand.

They are part of the vast heritage of wild life and forest beauty with which we Canadians are endowed, and in their very trustfulness is a plea for protectionagainst the hazards of fire—of predatory animals—of indiscriminate hunting by ourselves.

As new branches of the King's Highway open up, bringing more and more of Canada's beautiful forest land within reach of the city dweller, it becomes increasingly important that each one of us understand the laws and rules of conservation, for only by so doing can we protect and preserve our heritage.

Every Canadian, as a shareholder in Canada's natural wealth, has a vital interest in the conservation of this heritage. Conservation is not just a doctrine to be preached to hunters and fishermen. It is a vital part in the continuance of our national economy, and must, of necessity, fail if its measures do not receive the full support of all Canadian citizens.

Travelled 1300

(St. Catharines Standard) Travelling 1,300 miles in a jeep is not exactly the most comfortable mode of transportation, but it is a way of getting to your destination and seeing more of the world in the same time. Four residents of Manitoba did that last week, when they travelled from Gypsonville, about 180 miles north of Winnipeg, to St. Catharines in a farm jeep.

The four, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hunter and Mr. and Mrs. Algy Freeman, came down to attend a funeral. They had planned to go by rail, but missed the train, and struck upon the brilliant idea of making the journey in a jeep. Leaving Gypsonville last Wednesday afternoon, the quartet and their jeep arrived at 40 Court St. on Saturday morning, none the worse for their long, hazardous

On the contrary, the journey was rather delightful, with many interesting sights encountered on the way. No trouble was experienced, but they did run out of gas north of North Bay. In all, it was a most interesting journey, and the four hope that the return trip will be just as pleasant.

R. B. Wallace, registrar of vital statistics for Ontario points out that present border crossing regulations require a birth certificate for identification. Special copies of lost certificates must be obtained by tourists in the majority of cases.. The new certificates would obviate for most people the need for obtaining letters and duplicate certificates from the vital statistics

Barbara Became Star Overnight

Barbara Britton became a movie star on the shortest notice in Hollywood history. At three o'clock one afternoon, she was just another promising young actress o'clock the next morning she stepped before the camera as the feminine star of "Till We Meet Again." Now she plays the top female lead in Paramount's Technicolor super-Western, "The Virginian," currently at the Roxy Theatre first half of next week, with three of filmdom's most soughtafter male stars, Joel McCrea, Brian Donlevy and Sonny Tufts. And it couldn't have happened to a nicer girl.

Barbara decided on her career when, at the age of six, sh brought down the house in a Sunday School play, and the applause immediately went to her head. After that, she was always being put into school playlets, and eventually majored in English and dramatics at Long Beach Junior College. Her first break came with the publication of a picture of her on the Long Beach float in the Pasadena Tournament of Roses. A Hollywood agent saw it, was impressed with her beauty and induced Paramount to sign her to a contract. Obeying all the rules, studying her dramatic lessons hard, up ing to bed early and getting for early, helped prepare Barbara making the grade.

Barbara Britton's likeness her appeared more often on the covid of national magazines than that of any other actress in the movies, and she is one film star who never was an extra.

SICKNESS PREVENTION Pointing out that no sane motorist would dream of running an automobile indefinitely without periodic check-up to ensure all parts of the mechanism were in order, the National Health authority at Ottawa advises Canadians to treat their bodies and minds as they would any other delicate machines, and seek professional advice to guarantee their best performance. "If you wait for a breakdown before consulting the doctor, it may be too late" warns the Department of National Health and Welfare. THE QUESTION BOX Mrs. T. C. asks: Why does chocolate cake develop a dark streak near the 'bottom? Answer: This heavy dark streak may be caused by a difference in the chocolate used - some chocolate is richer in fat than others. The temperature used for baking may be the cause or the type of flour used may have altered the texture-a change from all-purpose to pastry flour would make a difference. You use 2 tbsps. per cup less all-purpose flour.
